Conor David is a co-founder of the NAI Ohio Equities Investment Team, and has been with the firm since starting his commercial real estate career in 2017. Over the past five years, he has consistently grown his business year-over-year and continues to expand his presence in the Columbus commercial real estate community.

While Conor works with properties of all sizes and types, the Investment Sales Team focuses on the needs of buyers and sellers of investment properties across all asset classes. He helps owners market their properties to attract qualified investors, and works with investors to find assets that best fit their overall real estate portfolio objectives. Prior to working at NAI Ohio Equities, Conor sold radio media and advertising, where he created marketing solutions to meet each business owners' unique needs. He brings this experience to every real estate client, making sure he clearly understands their needs and developing tailored solutions.

Conor is a member of several local real estate organizations, including Columbus REALTORS and Columbus Commercial Industrial Investment REALTORS (CCIIR). Additionally, he is a member of Varsity O, a network of former Ohio State athletes. He has lived in Columbus for 10 years, after graduating from The Ohio State University in 2011 with a BA in History, where he played varsity lacrosse.
